Impractical Uses of Cake by Yeoh Jo-Ann

Sukhin is a thirty-five-year-old teacher who lives alone. His life consists of reading, working and visiting his parents to rearrange his piles of "collectibles". While on an errand one afternoon in Chinatown, he encounters a homeless person who recognises him. This chance reunion turns Sukhin's well planned life upside down and the pair learns about love and sacrifice over their shared fondness for cake.

The Way of Kueh by Christopher Tan

Much more than just a collection of recipes, The Way of Kueh delves into the topic with a lyrical, insightful and practical approach. It traverses kueh families and genres, key kueh-making techniques, the seasonality and social significance of kueh, and the importance of both tradition and innovation. Local kueh artisans from all walks of lives share their stories and perspectives in interviews, while short essays muse on the histories, regional and colonial influences, science and symbolism behind this most diverse of food genres.

This Could Be Home: Raffles Hotel and the City of Tomorrow by Pico Iyer

Drawing upon numerous stays in Raffles over 35 years and the fast ascending city all around it, Iyer – a lifelong global soul – reflects on the "Grand Old Lady's" literary legacy and its mark on writers everywhere. In the process, he finds new ways of considering not just yesterday, but tomorrow. How have Singapore and its white-stucco monument evolved to meet the needs of a shifting world?

Wet Market to Table by Pamela Chia
