Absolute Carbon Peel at S$299.60

Carbon Laser Peel treatment is a laser procedure that uses a carbon layer as a photo-enhancer to improve the skin's radiance and promotes a smooth and glowing complexion. This treatment is used to target active acne as the carbon powder penetrates into pores, thus allowing the laser to focus its energy more effectively. The Carbon Laser Peel helps to refine enlarged pores, reduce oil secretion, remove blackheads, and achieve a whitening effect.

How does it work?

Before performing the laser treatment, a layer of carbon lotion is applied on the entire face. A carbon lotion is applied to the skin and allowed to dry over a period of 15 minutes. Then, the laser is used to heat and cause an implosion of the carbon particles the laser light is absorbed by the carbon paste focusing the laser energy on the epidermis. As the laser moves across the skin, the smoke from explosion of carbon particles is gently vacuumed up, exfoliating the skin and removing any debris in the pores. The treatment minimises pore sizes and the thermal effect of the laser beam stimulates collagen renewal. The heat produced also destroys P-acne which causes pimples, thus achieving acne control.

Absolute Brightening Laser Facial at S$642
